

Jason A Hunt

Bio Options

SHORT

Jason A Hunt transforms common leaders into Uncommon Leaders by teaching tools and strategies that make leadership easier. His insights empower leaders across the nation, drawing from diverse experiences. As the CEO of Eye Squared Leadership and a Certified Speaking Professional (CSP), he enriches lives, speaking over 100 times yearly.

MEDIUM

Jason A Hunt, a dynamic figure in the realms of authorship, speaking, and training, orchestrated a profound cultural shift while serving as principal, emphasizing personal influence over procedural rigidity. Passionate about empowering leaders, Jason's insights resonate across various sectors, from manufacturing to finance, with an impressive roster of over 100 speaking engagements annually. His journey, spanning from leading a congregation in Siberia at 19 to establishing Eye Squared Leadership, underscores his unwavering resilience and dedication. Recognized globally as a Certified Speaking Professional (CSP) and the president of the National Speakers Association of Minnesota, Jason's expertise is esteemed. Armed with a leadership degree and John Maxwell certification, he has penned several impactful books, including "The Other Side" and "The Uncommon Leadership" series.

LONG

Jason A Hunt is a vibrant, captivating, and fervent author, speaker, and trainer whose journey to success embodies resilience and transformation. Despite grappling with doubts during his early tenure as principal at a bustling middle school, Jason's profound realization—that effective leadership hinges on interpersonal connections rather than procedural prowess—propelled him to orchestrate a remarkable turnaround within just over two years. Through cultivating genuine rapport with his staff, he not only vanquished the toxic culture but also fostered a thriving educational environment.

Jason's profound insights center on empowering leaders to wield influence, transcending the constraints of mere titles. Drawing from his own experiences as an introvert, he offers a unique perspective and an arsenal of strategies to navigate the intricate terrain of human relationships, yielding reduced turnover rates, fortified organizational cohesion, and heightened job satisfaction.

Having assumed pivotal leadership responsibilities since a tender age—steering a congregation of 100 in remote Siberia at 19—Jason's trajectory has been one of relentless dedication. As the visionary founder and CEO of Eye Squared Leadership, he has enriched the professional lives of over 23,000 individuals across diverse organizational landscapes.

A sought-after speaker across an array of industries—from manufacturing to finance, from project management to social services—Jason commands the stage over 100 times annually. His commitment to excellence is underscored by his tenure as the president of the National Speakers Association of Minnesota and his recent attainment of the prestigious Certified Speaking Professional (CSP) designation, a testament to his elite standing among global speakers.

Jason's academic credentials, including a degree in leadership from the University of Minnesota and certification from the esteemed John Maxwell Leadership Institute, complement his vast expertise. With the publication of his inaugural book, "The Other Side," in 2019, followed by the release of "The Uncommon Leadership" series in 2022, Jason continues to shape the discourse on effective leadership.