Keynotes

Becoming a Person of Influence

Leadership is not about your title; it is about your ability to influence others. The best leaders intentionally develop and use their influence to make a positive impact on the lives of others. This highly engaging and powerful message on leadership gives you a framework and several tools for developing influence with nearly anyone.

Your personal influence has a dramatic effect on the positive impact you can have on people. Some people think you have to have a fancy

Lead From Where You Stand: How to influence as a middle-level leader

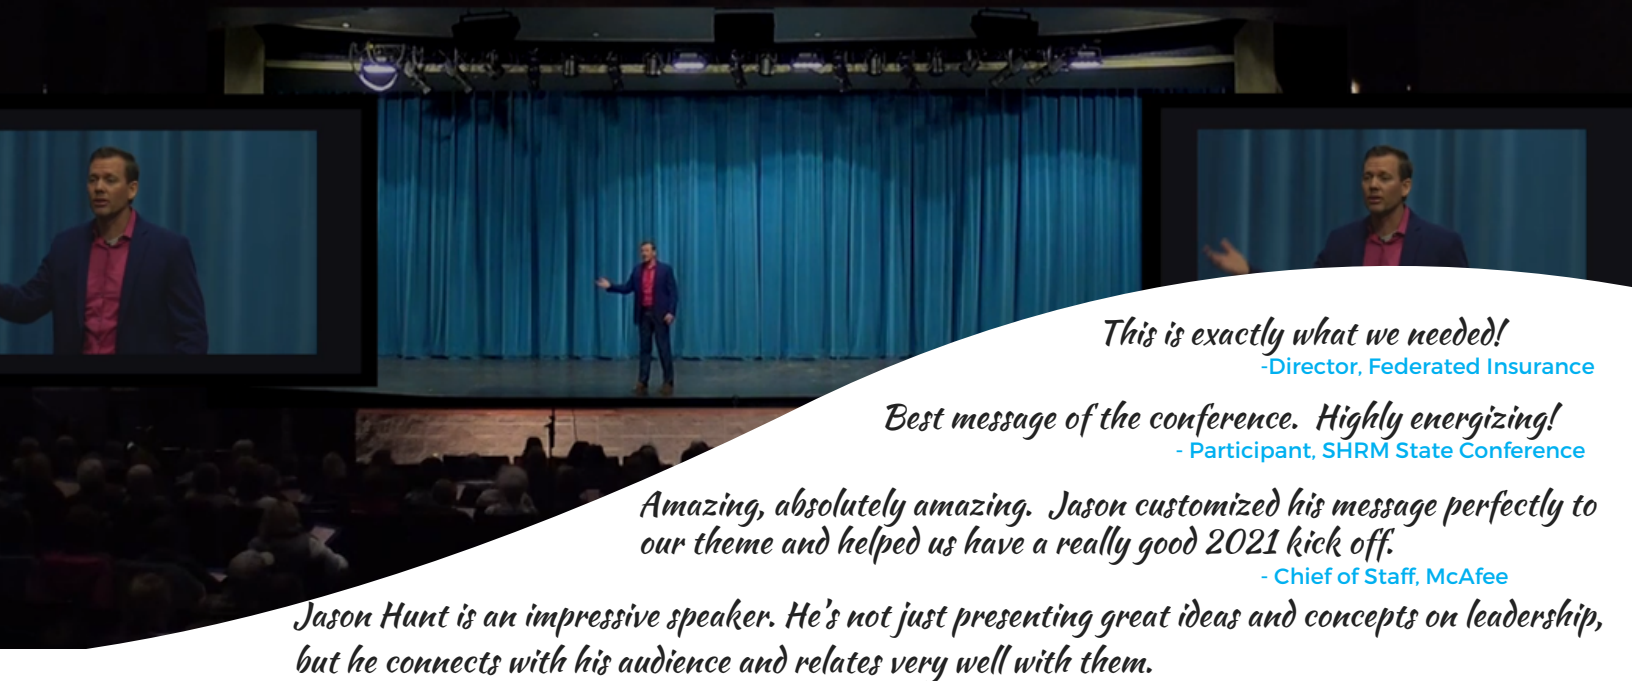

Being a leader in the middle is one of the most difficult things. You are often stuck between a rock and a hard place. It's no wonder that middle-level leaders are one of the most stressed of all worker groups. This message will teach you how to succeed as a middle-level leader by lifting your leader's load and freeing your employees.

The 7 Laws of Self-Leadership: Influencing yourself to influence others

It's true, the hardest person to lead is yourself. This direct and inviting message encourages you to leave behind past habits by replacing them with intentional daily practices of growth, helping you to become all you can possibly be.

ENGAGING ➤ CUSTOMIZED ➤ RELEVANT

Jason is the founder and CEO of Eye Squared Leadership and he has had the pleasure of working with companies large and small. Jason's first major leadership role was to run a branch of 100 church members in outer Siberia when he was 19. Since then, he has served in a number of leadership positions, including principal of a school. He has a master's degree in leadership, is certified by the John Maxwell Leadership Institute, serves as the VP of the National Speakers Association - MN chapter, and is the author of The Other Side: 5 Rules for Leading with Influence.
